MASTER IN COLLECTIVE HOUSING 3RD EDITION. MADRID. JANUARY-JULY 2008

MADRID. UNIVERSIDAD POLITÉCNICA. ESCUELA TÉCNICA SUPERIOR DE ARQUITECTURA.
Architectural Projects' Department.

The Master's degree in Collective Housing, MCH, began two years ago as a meeting point for investigators, professionals, and specialists within this field. The public university in Madrid, ETSAM, supported by its prestige and experience renders its optimal location for studying the outgrowth of housing in an urban context.

The MCH has acquired international recognition and counts with a background of students from all over the world. They seek to complete their knowledge looking towards their professional training.

Our goal is to bring them together with international professors and professionals who approach the issue in different ways.

Work is mostly practical with individual and group work development. Students present a very qualified profile for research as well as professional work.

A labour exchange program is offered.

A working environment is set for group work according to the university schedule.
