

MASTER IN COLLECTIVE HOUSING

4TH EDITION JANUARY JULY

UNIVERSIDAD POLITÉCNICA DE MADRID.
ESCUELA TÉCNICA SUPERIOR DE ARQUITECTURA.
 Architectural Projects' Department.

MCH 2009

The Master's degree in Collective Housing, MCH, began three years ago as a meeting point for researchers, professionals, and specialists within this field of high density city. The public university of Madrid, ETSAM, supported by its prestige and experience renders its optimal location for studying the outgrowth of housing in an urban context.

After this experience, our investigators present a high qualified profile for research as well as professional work. A labour exchange program is offered.

The Department of Architectural Projects offers this full program integrating the different disciplines dealing with collective housing. The Master Course includes several workshops with architects of international prestige, all of them specialists in housing.

Duration term: 600 lective hours.
 (60 ECTH)

A working environment is set for group work according to the university schedule. A one month technical spanish course is offered for students coming from abroad before the master period.
